Why? Over the course of 40-plus years as a record collector, folk music impresario, record shop owner, columnist, and radio host, Lou Curtiss has been intimately connected with the San Diego folk music scene -- and he has the tapes to prove it. For the past 4 years, Lou has been working with UCLA, the Library of Congress and the GRAMMY Foundation to preserve his vast library of reel-to-reel tapes of San Diego performances of many of the greats of American Roots Music.

Many hundreds of reels still need to be digitized and preserved for posterity. This is your chance to enjoy some local musicians and participate in a project of lasting cultural significance.

Tickets at the Door:
$10, with "no maximum"
